

Background

Lenz is one of the oldest wineries on the East End. Founded in 1978, it is now owned and operated by English-born Peter Carroll and his wife, Deborah. With Sam McCullough in the vineyards and Eric Fry in the winery, over the last decade Lenz has consistently produced wines that define the region's potential. Their meticulous attention to the vines, using a different vineyard-management program for each grape variety, provides the raw materials needed in the winery for Eric to create critically acclaimed Chardonnays, Gewürztraminers, Merlots, Cabernets and Sparkling Wines.
